INTERESTING LETTERS

Writers From "Over There" Give Descriptions of France—Praise Given Marines by Capt. Shaffer, Who Says "They Are Wonderful Fighters."

Here are two interesting letters received by Alexandrians from persons "over there." One is written by Capt. Carl W. Schaffer, Marine Reserve Corps, to Warren S. Grubbs, this city. Capt. Shaffer several years ago was in Alexandria employed in a drug store.

The other letter is from Bernard L. Wannal, and is written to his wife, Mrs. Corrie Marie Wannall, 315 South Pitt street. The letters follow:

"Dear Warren—We are at a very active point now and as I sit in my first-aid station I can see the Huns' shells burst over on another hill. They are darn poor marksmen, though, and our boys have it all over them. The Marines have shown themselves to be wonderful fighters and have certainly given the Huns a good taste of Yankee "medicine" and all of our artillery outfits have done well.

"I have been rather busy lately, although we have not had so many casualties in our regiment.

"Coming to this place we were under "forced march" orders and were making at least twenty-five miles every day. The men stood the trip better than the horses and we went into action within an hour after arriving at our destination.

"One of the most pathetic things I have seen in France was the sight of all the refugees coming away from the area of the Huns invasion. Old men and women, invalids and babies, coming in wagons and carts, with just those things most prized by the owners. The carts were drawn by horses, mules, oxen, donkeys an in some cases by dogs. Some of the women were crying because their parents had been slaughtered by the advancing brutes.

"But our boys have not only held them, but pushed them back to some extent. France is a wonderful country and in peace times a trip here would be more than delightful."

The letter received by Mrs. Wannall follows:

"Just now I am stationed in a town called St. Agnan, but do not know how long I will be here. It is a very beautiful little town. I am now quartered near an old castle that was built in the eleventh century, and it certainly is magnificent in its beauty. It is all covered with ivy and surrounded by grand old trees, which almost hide it from view.

When the sun shines on it, and coming upon it suddenly, it will hold a person spellbound with its beauty. There is an old duke living there, I have been told, but, as yet, I have never seen him.

"We have taken up our musical duties, which consist mostly of two rehearsals a day and a concert every night. We have good quarters and plenty of good substantial food, so have no "kick" coming at all.

"Will tell you a little of the French people: They hold their market day and such a hustle, baby lambs crying, people crowding and shouting, soldiers making their way in and out of the crowd—it sure is great to witness real European market scenes.

"Most of the people wear great wooden shoes and they clip clop all day long. It is a wonder how they can wear them as I don't think I could."

Mr. Wannall has been in France since the first of the year. He is a Washington boy, formerly a member of the District National Guard.

GERMAN PEACE PROFFERS.

Huns Would Release Belgium to Procure Return of Colonies.

Copenhagen, July 15.—Basing his statement upon interviews he has just had with the former German chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, and prominent Germans, the Berlin correspondent of the Copenhagen Politiken says:

"Germany expects to retrieve her colonies through bartering Belgium, but she will not surrender Belgium unless a free route to her colonies also is granted."

The Budapest newspaper Pester Lloyd publishes an interview with the German ambassador at Vienna in which the diplomat says the German army command desires only the "necessary Eastern frontier corrections, with military and economic guarantees in the West including such guarantees regarding Belgium."

GONE OUT OF BUSINESS

Members of Old Alexandria Trades Council Not Aware of Organization Styled "The Alexandria Trades and Labor Council," Which is Reputed to have Indorsed White for Congress

Former members of the Alexandria Trades Council of Alexandria say that this organization two years ago went out of business and they were surprised today to learn that an organization styled "The Alexandria Trades and Labor Council" had indosed E. B. White, of Loudoun County, Va., for Congress.

The members of the old Trades Council say that this organization is a new one to them and evidently is formed for political purposes, the Alexandria Trades' Council, as they claim, having gone out of business two years ago.

Practically all of the former members of the Alexandria Trades' Council, which was a legitimate labor organization, will unanimously support Representative C. C. Carlin for re-election.

None of the members of the old Alexandria Trades' Council are aware of the existence of such an organization as "The Alexandria Trades and Labor Council," it is claimed. If there is such an organization they say it is not a labor organization so far as they know.

THE LATE L. F. PATTIE

Cashier of the National Bank of Manassas, Sends Bullet Into Brain.

The suicide of L. Frank Pattie, of Manassas, has been mentioned in The Gazette. He was cashier of the National Bank of Manassas, and died by his own hand at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. R. S. Hynson, Sunday night, July 7.

The Manassas Journal in its account of the suicide, says:

"Mr. Pattie was operated on about two years ago for appendicitis and his health had not been of the best since then. Of late he has had trouble in the region of the appendix and had been heard to remark that he did not believe the operation had been altogether successful. His sufferings, together with the confinement attendant upon the duties of his position, made even more arduous on account of the recently Liberty Loan and War Savings campaigns, broke down his nervous system with the terrible result mentioned above.

"On Sunday, the 7th instant, Mr. Pattie, not feeling even as well as usual, passed practically the whole day in his room ,lying down for the most part, and about 9 o'clock p. m., he complained to his wife, who with their little daughter, was with him, that the room was close and he was going out on the porch for air. Donning his dressing gown, he left the room presumably for the porch, but he never reached it. On the way down the hall, he entered Mr. Hynson's room and took from its holster a pistol, which was hanging near the bed and sent a bullet into his own brain. The ball entered near the center of the forehead and, passing through the brain, made its exit at the top and rear of the skull, finally lodging in the wall of the room.

"Death was instantaneous. His wife, on hearing the report, went to him and found him dead with the gun clutched tightly in his hand.

"The deceased was born at Catharpin, August 19, 1885. He came to Manassas in 1904 to enter the service of the National Bank of Manassas.

"Mr. Pattie was a member of Manassas Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and also belonged to the Manassas Chapter, Royal Arch Masons.

REPORT OF STAMP SALES

This City Sells $100,000 of War Savings Stamps—To July 5 Nearly a Millon Dollars' Worth Sold in This District.

A report of War Savings Stamps and sales and pledges for Virginia, issued by Thomas B. McAdams, state director, from December 3, 1917, to July 5, 1918, shows that this city's total sales and pledges amounted to $100,000, or $5.57 per capita, based on an estimated population of 17,939. The estimat of the population, however, is far from Alexandria's correct population, which now is estimated at more than twenty thousand.

The total sales and pledges reported for the Eighth congressional district are given at $977,418, or $5.89 per capita with an estimated population of 165,961.

The official figures given are as follows:

County	Population	Total Sales & Pledges Reported	Per Capita
Alexandria ...	11,791	40,000.00	$3,56
Culpeper	13,472	58,012.00	4.30
Fairfax	21,154	73,375.00	3.46
Fauquier	22,526	353,579.00	15.69
King George..	6,378	7,192.00	1.11
Loudoun	21,167	182,250.00	8.61
Louisa	16,621	34,466.00	2.07
Orange	14,153	52,044.00	3.67
Prince William	12,691	76,500.00	6.02
Stafford	8,070	No Report
Cities
Alexandria ...	17,939	100,000.00	5.57
Totals	165,961	977,418.00	5.89

The publicity bureau has the following to say on the situation:

"Unless there is marked reaction on the part of Virginians in their attitude toward investing in War Savings Stamps the patriotism of the Old Dominion will certainly be brought under a cloud, judging by figures made public by Director Thomas B. McAdams, of the National War Savings Committee of Virginia.

"The National War Savings Committee at Washington has fixed Virginia's quota at $45,000,000 to be invested in War Savings Stamps, or at the rate of $20 per capita. The figures show the average per capita sale and pledge to be $5.43. This means to insure a total investment of $45,000,000 each Virginian, men, women and children, both white and colored, must invest not less than $20 each in these baby bonds which are issued by the United States government to help finance the war. The great drive now under way will continue through December 31, having started on December 3, 1917.

"Figures just announced by Director McAdams cover the period from December 3, 1917, through July 5, which includes the intensive drive for pledges and sales culminating on June 28, National War Savings Day. They show that Virginians have bought and pledged themselves to buy stamps to an aggregate value of $12,287,621, or little more than 25 per cent of the total aimed at. In other words, Virginians have less than six months in which to invest $32,712,379 in War Saviogs Stamps if their state is not to be put in the slacker class."

Forty Thousand Desert Army

London, July 15.—Forty thousand deserters from the Austrian army fled inland after the Piave disaster, the Zurich correspondent of the Daily News has learned from neutral sources, he declared in a dispatch today.

Some of these are armed and are hiding in the mountains. Three thousand deserters were arrested in Budapest.

Austro-German relations are seriously strained as a result of the Piave defeat, the correspondent said.

Despite the rigid censorship, it is learned that the Austrian losses on the Piave, exclusive of slightly wounded, were more than 200,000, of which 10,000 were drowned.

HARRY ALLEN, FORMER RESIDENT, BURIED TODAY

The funeral of Harry E. Allen, who died Saturday in Thurmont, Md., took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of James C. Richards, 213 South Royal street. Service were conducted by the Rev. L. F. Kelly, of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

The deceased was forty-five years old and a marine engineer by occupation. Surviving him are three sisters and a brother.

SPEEDING UP CLEAN-UP

Dealers in Foodstuffs Must Co-operate or Military Guards Will Forbid Soldiers From Entering—Lumsden Will Address City Council.

"We are driving as fast as we can to get everything in this town in good sanitary condition and we are not going to stop until Alexandria is a model of sanitation. We will not give her a clean bill of health until everything is as clean as a pin. The work has got to be done by the people themselves and they should not be satisfied until they have done everything possible to make it a perfect city from a sanitary standpoint."

This statement was made today by Dr. L. L. Lumsden, of the United States public health service, who has been assigned to Alexandria to look after the work incident to putting this city in a sanitary condition.

His advice to the public is as follows:

"Continue to boil all drinking water until assurances are given that the water is perfectly safe for drinking purposes.

"Pasturize all milk at home regardless of whether or not there is typhoid fever in the city; all should do it at this time of the year.

"Persons should do everything possible to check flies, including trapping screening and eliminating all breeding places for flies."

Flies, he declared, are a mighty dangerous proposition and all should do everything possible to keep them as far away from food as possible. Let every citizen, he urges, wage a relentless war against flies.

Dr. Lumsden stated that the forces here are doing everything possible to continue the sanitation. Three Red Cross nurses arrived today from the public health service. They will visit the homes where communicable diseases exist and assist the families in carrying out measures to prevent the spread of the infection to other members of the family and also to others in the community. He asks that all physicians immediately report all cases of communicable diseases.

The work of sanitating the existing outdoor toilets, of which there are about 400, was begun today by a force of men and later on the sanitary boxes being built will be installed. This force also will give a general cleaning up to the city. Announcement also was made by Dr. Lumsden that beginning this week all persons calling at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce will be inoculated against typhoid by a physician from the U. S. public health service. This work will be done free of charge.

According to Dr. W. L. Wood, of the U. S. public health service, this week's campaign will be with a view of cleaning up food shops, soda water stands, barber shops, etc. On the result of this clean-up, Dr. Wood explained, will depend the lifting of the quarantine placed against soldiers from Camp Humphreys purchasing either food or drink in this city. He added until this work is done completely and satisfactorily the quarantine will not be lifted. The food shops, he said, have got to be cleaned immediately. He said the merchant will be called on and the situation explained to them. They will be given a reasonable length of time in which to remedy conditions and unless orders are carried out a military guard will be placed in front of their places and soldiers not permitted to enter.

A joint meeting of the two boards of city council will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night when Dr. Lumsden will appear and explain what is necessary to be done in connection with improving the sanitary conditions of the city. It is expected that every member of council will attend this meeting.

SEIZED WHISKY HELD

Thousands of Bottles of Liquor Recently Captured Awaiting Disposition at the Station House.

Bottled whisky, enough to fill seven barrels, is now being assorted at the station house in this city. It is composed of quart, pint and half pints, and all grades. The liquor was seized at different times by the prohibition inspectors.

A dispatch from Baltimore says: Va., prohibitionists are a thrifty as they are practical. They have a state law which prohibits the importation of a sale of liquor by either a citizen or outsider, but they enacted still another law which permits the State to dispose of the stuff to individual drinkers living without its boundaries. In enacting this law, however, they gave no consideration to the tax feature.

Under the original law the authorities seized quantities of liquor to be destroyed, but on second thought this was considered unbusinesslike. So they amended the law permitting sale of the confiscated liquor only to individuals outside of the State. To avoid going on record as being in the liquor business, which also necessitated a wholesale license, the State quietly sold the lot to an agent for a dealer in Baltimore, and a consignment of 22 barrels, 7 boxes and 145 cases of good and bad rye arrived at a Baltimore dock a few days since.

The sale was effected by representing the liquor as tax free, but when the internal revenue office held up the consignment for the increased tax of $2.10 per gallon the purchaser refused to pay. Now the State is in a quandary and its agents in a fix. In the first place, by selling to a dealer a State law was violated. If disposed of to individuals a license fee of $100 a wholesaler's license, must be obtained and the tax paid besides.

The government is unexorable on this point—no tax, no delivery. The liquor is valued at about $6,000. The proposition was made that as the liquor could not be sold, it be reshipped to Norfolk, whence it came. Here, again, however, the Federal law interposed. Under the Reed amendment no liquor may be shipped into dry territory, so it must remain in Baltimore.

SHIPS SUNKS IN QUEER WAY.

Collisions Frequent In South American Waters.

Buenos Aires, Argentina, July 15.—Two British steamships have been sunk in nearby waters as the result of collisions. The British steamship Clan Robertson of 4,826 tons gross collided yesterday with another British steamship and sank in the river Plata.

A dispatch from Montevideo reports the sinking of the British steamship Induna, of 4,426 tons gross, off the Brazilian coast, between the Rio Grande and Coronilla, after a collision with an Italian steamship.

The newspapers are demanding that the Government investigate frequent collisions between Entente Allied mercantile vessels in the River Plate while in charge of pilots whose names would indicate enemy origin. The sinking of the Clan Robertson was the third collision in the last six weeks, affecting six vessels of Entente Allied regristration or loaded with supplies for the Allies.

Several barges loaded with guncotton, enroute to Carney's Point, N. J., broke loose from the tug which was towing them during the storm last week and went ashore near the "Marshes," below the mouth of the Potomac River at Reidsville, Northumberland county. One of the barges will probably be a total loss, but the cargoes of all of them were saved. There were no lives lost.

Austrian papers which have reached Berne say that Premier von Seydler will soon resign. Political commentators in the Austrian press add that his successor must be "equally agreeable to the Germans and Poles."

The American smoker at home will have to curtail his use of tobacco so the men of all the allies at the front may have their ration. The War Industries Board announced last night that is is investigating now to determine just how much home consumption must be reduced.

ANOTHER HUN DRIVE

The German offensive was resumed this morning on the fifty-mile front extending from Chateau-Thierry eastward into the Champagne region.

Early indications are that the enemy is combining a drive toward Paris with a desperate effort to capture Rheims and eliminate that city as an obstacle to the advance.

The Champagne thus has been linked up with the Flanders, Picardy and Marne fronts, forming a battle line of nearly 250 miles, extending from Main-de-Massiges in the Champagne to Ypres in Flanders.

At least two distinct American forces are involved in the new drive. There is a heavy force west of Chateau-Thierry and eastward along the Marne to Jaulgonne—a front of about ten miles—while other Americans are known to have been in the line near Butte-du-Mesnil, four miles west of Main-de-Massiges.

Paris, July 15. — The Germans launched an attack this morning on the fifty-mile front extending from Chateau-Thierry eastward to Main-de-Massiges. The battle is continuing. The attack followed a violent artillery preparation. The French are sustaining their positions.

LIFE GUARD'S DIRE PERIL

Nearly Drowns as Trio of Frightened Girls Grab Him.

Ocean City, N. J., July 15.—Weighed down by thre exhausted and terrified young women bathers, Life Guard William Wittemaier, swimming instructor and physical director at the Philadelphia Central Y. M. C. A., nearly lost his life n the surf at Fourteenth street yesterday.

The girls suddenly struck a deep gully near the Ocean City Fishing Club pier and were being dashed toward the pier piling by the heavy seas and undertow when they screamed for help.

Life Guards Wittemaier and Meredith were in their boat, nearly fifty yards away, the boat pointed in the opposite direction. Difficulty was experienced in turning, because of the terrific seas, and Wittemaier jumped, swimming to the girls. They grabbed him and he nearly went down. One finally let go. A bather went to help but he had to give up. Lawrence Pryor, of Philadelphia, swam to the boat and with the assistance of Meredith all were brought in. The girls were revived and taken home. Wittemaier was given treatment and later resumed his duties.

ASKS KISSES AS SHE DIES

Thrice Shot, Woman Expires in Arms of Alleged Slayer.

Fairchance, Pa., July 15.—"Kiss me before I die," gasper Mrs. Samuel Coles, aged 25, as she staggered into the arms of N. A. Whiting, 28, in her home in Tower Hill, yesterday afternoon after three bullets had pierced her left side. Whitng, witnesses say, clasped the woman closely and kissed her repeatedly as she sank into unconsciousness. She died in his arms and Whiting was arrested.

Jealousy, the police say, caused the tragedy. Mrs. Coles and her husband separated several months ago and the latter had filed a suit for divorce. Several persons besides Mrs. Coles were in her home yesterday afternoon when Whiting appeared and asked a question about "other men." Suddenly he began shooting, it is allaged.

The second game was against the Foxall Athletic Club which resultedi na score of 10 to 2. RELIGIOUS-POLITICAL FREEDOM

The anniversary of the demolition of the Bastile in Paris July 14, 1789, was observed throughout the United States yesterday. Appropriate exercises were held under the shadow of the Washington Monument, invoking the shades of LaFayette, Rochambeau and other patriotic Frenchmen who crossed the great deep to aid the American colonies in achieving their independence. The statue of Liberty enlightening the world, in New York harbor, the gift of the French people looked on as Freedom was being celebrated, as did that of Jeannie d'Arc in Paris.

While there was no public demonstration in Alexandria, the souls of our people went out to our brethren in France who are now engaged in the work of ridding the country of an army of desperadoes who rival savages in their work of rapine and murder.

Alexandria should have celebrated Bastile Day. The great LaFayette visited our city in 1825, passing over Washington street on his visit to Mount Vernon. He was entertained in our city, and left greatly impressed with the people of Alexandria.

In the Second Presbyterian Church yesterday—the government of which is strictly democratic—the tri-color of France had been placed over the keys of the organ. The gentle zephyrs kept the flag fluttering and the organist, as a prelude, rendered the Marseillaise Hymn. The tune was an inspiration, and as its notes rose the congregation became enthused. This national hymn of the French was brought to the birth after the revolution was well under way. Our "Star Spangled Banner" was the outcome of the second war for independence.

The minister, the Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison, upon ascending the pulpit read from Luke IV, the following verses taken from Isaiah LXI, the same which were read by the Saviour of Mankind in the synagogue at Nazareth nearly nineteen centuries ago: "The spirit of the Lord God is upon me because He hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind; to set at liberty them that are bruised; to preach the acceptable year of the Lord."

Bible students have called attention to the fact that the Lord stopped at a comma, which is suggestive, as those who may examine the portion of Isaiah from which He read, will find these momentous words follow: "And the day of vengeance of our God." This day of vengeance is in store for the power which is now warring against civilization.

The minister after having read these appropriate verses proclaimed Jesus Christ as the Great Emancipator, and his words were listened to with close attention.

The destruction of the Bastile was one of the first acts of the French toward eliminating the stone structure of horror which had for many years disgraced the banks of the Seine. Dungeons below the river's bed were the abodes of innocent people for years. Here they passed most of their lives amidst slime and rats awaiting a time when a haughty aristocracy would consent to their release.

A weak King—Louis XVI—and a haughty woman—Marie Antoinette—his queen, were ruling France. The woman was generally known to the French as "the Austrian," a name uttered in contempt by all lovers of Freedom. At a time, when Paris had become too hot for royalty, she exclaimed, "Why I'm a daughter of Maria Theresa!"

This did not save her from the lovers of Freedom. She paid the penalty of greatness, and the cost of her sepulture, which was paid by the city of Paris, she being regarded as a pauper, amounted to about six dollars.

Liberty in coming to the birth causes more or less trouble, and there was much useless shedding of blood by the French. The Bastile is now but memory, as the unfortunate Louis and his equally ill-fated queen. But the sun of Freedom has long rose and set over the country which for centuries bore the yoke of cruel autocracy, an autocracy, be it remembered, which was not of French origin, but detestable German.

The descendants of the patriots of old are engaged again in battling for Freedom against a cruel power which would wrest from them the sacred bequest of their ancestors and place France once more under the iron heel of Germany.

MR. CARLIN AND LABOR

When we read last week that the Trades' and Labor Council had indorsed Mr. White as their candidate for Congress against Hon. C. C. Carlin, the present incumbent, a man who has done everything possible for the laboring man, our mind ran back to the time Mr. Carlin first entered the race for Congress. He was then a candidate for the unexpired term of the late Hon. J. F. Rixey. Judge C. E. Nicol and R. Lindsey Gordon were also aspirants for the position. A meeting was held at the Opera House in this city at that time and three rival candidates were present. At the close of the meeting, which was attended by many mechanics and other working men, a prominent member of the Machinists' Union of Washington, which embraces many Alexandrians who work at the Washington Navy Yard, ascended to the stage and presented Mr. Carlin with a large bouquet.

Mr. Carlin, before he entered Congress, had been instrumental in bringing about improved conditions in the field of labor, and the members of the union justly appreciated his services. Since he became a member of Congress he has ever been on the alert to do everything reasonable in the interest of toilers.

We were today pleased to see that the great mass of working men are not ingrates, and that they are as firm in their support of Mr. Carlin as they were years ago.

We gladly reproduce the following, which appear in the Washington papers this morning:

"Former members of the Alexandria Trades Council of Alexandria say that this orginization two years ago went out of business and they were surprised last week to learn that an organization styled "The Alexandria Trades and Labor Council" had endorsed E. B. White, of Loundon county, Va., for Congress.

"The members of the old Trades Council say that this organization is a new one to them and evidently is formed for political purposes, the Alexandria Trades Council, as they claim, having gone out of business two years ago.

Practically all of the former members of the Alexandra Trades Council, which was a legitimate labor organization, will unanimously support Representative C. C. Carlin for re-election.

"None of the members of the old Alexandria Trades Council are aware of the existence of such an orginization as "The Alexandria Trades and Labor Council," it is claimed. If there is such an organization they say it is not a labor organization so far as they know.

CITY'S HEALTH CONDITIONS

The work of cleaning up this city is progressing rapidly. Cartloads of rubbish are being taken from yards and cellars of residents, foul gutters cleansed, weeds destroyed—in short, everything of an unsightly or unsanitary nature is being eliminated. The old Tanyard ditch, long neglected, has been cleared of its filthy accumulations, and the contents of the sewer which extends from North Henry street to a point between Franklin and Jefferson streets, are passing out into Hunting Creek.

The fact that health conditions in Alexandria are rapidly improving will bring great relief to our people, although the great majority are still of the opinion that there never has been anything of an alarming nature in our midst. The number of cases of genuine typhoid fever is on the wane, and many cases of fever have not developed into the much-dreaded malady. A prominent physician stated today that only about 10 per cent of the cases have developed into typhoid fever, and that, in his opinion, most of the so-called cases were of an intermittent malarial nature.

The people of Alexandria are working with one accord in removing everything which could in any way have contributed toward the alarm recently manifested here, and within the next few days nothing will have remained to cause anxiety.

The members of the police force are investigating conditions everywhere, and special attention is being paid to the provisions of the health law. The attention of all persons engaged in selling provisions of any kind is being called to section 15 of that law, which reads:

"It shall be the duty of every butcher, grocer, dealer in fish or meats and every occupant of any stall in the market or store within the city limits to keep his place of business clean of all vegetable leaves, filth and rubbish of every kind. And every butcher, grocer, dealer in fish or meats, and every occupant of any stall in the market and any store within the city limits shall provide and keep special boxes or barrels with tight covers in which he shall keep all refuse, meats, decayed fish, waste, trash and rubbish of every kind, and shall remove the same every morning except Sunday. And it shall be unlawful for any butcher, grocer, or dealer in fresh meats, fish, fruit, or vegetables to expose the same on the street or sidewalks unless enclosed in glass or other dustproof receptacle. Every manager of a store, dairy, cafe, lunchroom, or any other place in the city where a food or beverage, confectionery or other similar article manufactured or prepared for sale, stored for sale, offered for sale or sold, shall cause the same to be screened effectually so as to prevent flies and other insects from obtaining access to such food, beverages, confectionery or other articles, and shall keep the same free from flies and other insects at all times."

THE HUNGER ARGUMENT

According to latest estimates, deaths from starvation as a result of the war are far in excess of the number of deaths from actual clash on the battlefields. The allies have endeavored to cut off the food supply of the Central Powers by a blockade of their seaports. The Germans have resorted to submarine warfare in the effort to starve the people of Great Britain and France.

Thus far the compulsive argument of hunger has not been sufficiently convincing to bring about a cessation of hostilities, but with the failure of submarine effort to prevent the transport of food, men and munitions to great Britain, France and Italy, and more and more serious lack of food supply in Austria and Germany, it is quite possible that hunger may be the determining factor in the restoration of peace. Nothing so greatly adds to the horror of war as the incidental starvation of millions of non-combatants, mostly women and children.

KAISER SAVES LICHNOWSKY

Induces Prussian House of Lords Not to Expel Frank Diplomat.

London, July 15.—At Emperor William's personal request, says a dispatch from Amsterdam, a majority of the members of the Prussian House of Lords have agreed not to expel Prince Charles Lichnowsky, the German ambassador at London at the outbreak of the war, who issued a memorandum last March criticising the German foreign policy and blaming the German government for starting the war.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

It was announced at Vienna yesterday with reference to the impending sessions of the Austrian and Hungarians parliaments, according to a telegram from the Austrian capital, that "important statements regarding the foreign policy will be made by the Government."

Before the end of July the United States will have more than 2,500,000 in the uniform of its army, 511,000 in that of the navy, and 69,000 in the Marine Corps garb, a total of slightly more than 3,000,000 in the armed services of the nation.

The German Imperial Chancellor announced in the Reichstag last month that the Arbeiter Zeitung had been barred in Germany by the Government in a full accord with the Government of Austria because the paper was "cosidered every day more and more a perverted newspaper.

"There are 27,000 trained soldiers—Filipinos—in the Philippine Islands ready to take the field and every one of them will fight like demons," said Lieut. Col. James Rose, of Manila, while visiting New York recently.

Two hundred leading Greeks were massacred on the first day after the Turks had reoccupied Trebisond, says a dispatch from Athens.

Bulgaria, facing starvation, ruin and virtual annihilation, may be the first of the Central Powers alliance to desert Kaiser Wilhelm and his war. Menaced directly by the combined thrust of Serbs, French, Italians and British in Albania on a front that extends from the Adriatic Sea to Saloniki on the Aegean, with her people dying by the hundreds from hunger and disease, King Ferdinand's country is literally on its last legs. The new Albanian drive, it is thought, will prove to be the last straw on the back of the despairing Bulgars.

Calvin Sears, aged 14, was drowned Saturday evening in a feed well at the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, at Luke, near Cumberland, Md., where he was employed. The sudden stoppage of machinery caused an investigation resulting in the finding of Sears' body clogging a feed pipe about 75 yards below the well, having been washed down through the pipe from the well. It was then recalled that Sears had been seen washing his face at the well. It is supposed he lost his balance and fell in.

The body of a baby girl was found in the Potomac River, near the Washington channel, yesterday morning. A piece of metal had been tied to the body with astring.

Arbeiter Zeitung, of Vienna, the official organ of the Austrian Social Democracy, demands, according to a dispatch received by the Havas Agency, that the Austrian Government come to an agreement with Presideint Wilson.

Your Winter's Coal Supply

On account of rulings of the U. S. Fuel Administration, it seems doubtful if Virginia will receive sufficient anthracite coal to supply the demands. If present rulings are maintained, this shortage will be very great in Alexandria and we earnestly advise our customers to put in a reasonable amount of bituminous coal as a safeguard against a coal shortage next winter.

We are now securing some very fine bituminous coal which we believe will work in all characters of coal burners but the Latrobe stoves.

Better Cooking by Electricity

Women have long known that electric cooking is cleaner, that it banishes all the dust and ashes of coal and wood and soot and fumes of gas. They have known that it makes the kitchen cooler; the air purer; that is the most convenient way to cook. Now they have the word of the women who stand for the most scientific cooking methods known, that electric cooking produces better results than any other means.

Let us demonstrate the various sizes of ranges and refer you to the satisfied electric range users.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Lieut.-Col. Bryan Conrad, U. S. A., now stationed at ort Oglethrope, Ga., has been promoted to the rank of colonel. He is the son of the late Major Holmes Conard, and has been in the regular army since the outbreak of the Cuban war, in which he served first as a private with a company from Utah, where he was practicing law when a call was issued for volunteers. His younger brother, Capt. Robert Y. Conard, is commanding Company 1. One Hundred and Sixteenth Infantry (formerly the Second Virginia Regiment, in France.

The summer school at the University of Virginia closes July 27. It will close with satisfaction on the part of students and faculty, and especially the director, who has exerted every effort to bring the best to the school. He cannot but see the gratifying results. The attendence is the largest of any summer school in the South.

Horace H. Harton, seventy-two years old, was instantly killed at Charlottesvile when he was struck by shifting cars Friday night. He was general road foreman of engines of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway. Mr. Harton suffered the loss of his right arm thirty years ago while an engineer on the Piedmont division of the road just twenty yards from the spot where he met his death.

KEPT HER AWAKE.

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful.

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night . . . I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui . . .

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again . . . I decided I would try Cardui . . . By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial. NC-133

Some Figures on Rats.

Many real scientists have delved deep into the habits and nature of the various families or species of rat and many have come to the conclusion that the brown rat, commonly known as the Norwegian rat, is the most to be feared. Well, for the present, leaving that question out entirely, all will agree that they all are a pest to the human family. Not only are they destructive of a vast amount of property, but they are scatterers of deadly diseases, notably the bubonic plague. It has been estimated that in the United States alone, there are five rats for every human being living therein—500,000,000 being the estimate. They all eat; it is not alone what they eat, but what they destroy. Allowing two pounds as weight for the rat and 100 pounds as weight for a person, the rats weigh one-tenth as much as the people; hence, without allowance for waste, which would be fully twice as much more, it costs annually one-tenth as much to feed the rats as to feed the whole human south.

population of the United States. If their waste is taken into account it costs three-tenths as much. Going one step further and taking in the depredations of all kinds of rats in other countries, especially in warmer climes, it would add yet another two-tenths, making the rat population cost fully one-half as much as it does to feed the whole human family. Let us make a surpreme effort to get rid of them by other means than those so far tried. Who will be first to help?

Robinson, and damaged the agricultural implement establishment of Jenkins & Dunlap. The latter building is owned by M. L. Capper. The loss—about $4,000—is covered by insurance. The well-directed work of firemen saved the foundry and machine shops on the north and the Capper building on the
